CIA Support for NNTAP

1. We have reviewed your request for OER support in the studies being prepared by DIA for the new NNTAP. Even though most of the questions posed in your terms of reference are economic in nature, they represent the kind of activity for which OER is no longer structured. As you know, it has been many years since OER has done this kind of analysis, particularly as we have been forced to put more and more of our resources into economic analysis on policy support questions. We are, in fact, hard-pressed to meet the on-going demands placed upon us for higher priority questions. I also note that neither the Director's Statement of Key Intelligence Questions nor the statement of priorities implicit in DCID 1/2 covers the specific subjects posed in your terms of reference.

2. To the extent that any OER analysis is pertinent to these questions, it is, of course, made available to DIA routinely. I have also inquired to see if any members of the external contracting fraternity are working on related problems. To the best of my knowledge, they are not. I am told, however, that G. E. Tempo probably has the capability to be of assistance to DIA in this respect.
